FARM BUSINESS SCHOOL (FBS)

A Farm Business School (FBS) is a "forum" of venue that brings farmers together to carry out collective I collaborative enquiry to address business and marketing problems and opportunities. FBS brings ether a group of like-minded farmers' with the aim to develop or strengthen their skills to produce more fitability for the market. As program of learning, it can prove particularly beneficial for those smallholder mers who are just getting involved in producing for the market and need help to do it more effectively.

Generally, the purpose is to work with farmers to help them build knowledge and skills to make their farms more profitable. They will do this by learning about in their own local environment. The FBS program takes the school to the farmers. The training materials are designed around the concept of the farm business management example, Organizing, Producing, Monitoring and Marketing in farming activities.

pecifically the program aims to: Help the farmers to have profitable farming and preparation of a arketing Plan; Impart the knowledge of doing business plan of their individual farms before engaging into fferent farm activities; Help the farmers prepare the schedule of farming activities from production to arketing the product and To help the farmers be able to prepare a Farm Business Plan for an enterprise.

Class sessions are conducted and facilitated by students of Master of Agricultural Development major in Extension of JH Cerilles State College as requirements to their Agricultural Extension 217, 2nd Semester his school year 2016-2017.
